MINK RANCHERS NEED MORE LOCAL FISH SUPPLY FEED REQUIREMENTS

LAC LA BICHE—The falling off in production of local fish from nearby lakes has presented a serious problem to mink ranchers. As a result of not being able to catch all the mink feed required here, carloads are ordered in from the B.C. coast.

Youth Club At Lac la Biche

A meeting was held on Dec. 3 to organize a youth club. Any person from 13 to 35 is welcome to join. Donald Stewart officiated, and opened the meeting by telling the members-to-be the aims of the club and what purposes it would serve.

Nominations were then opened for President. Out of the three nominated, Rose Danyluk was chosen. Douglas Johnston was chosen as secretary, and Sonia Duban is now treasurer. Entertainment officer is Bob Stufferfield. Douglas Johnston was nominated as press reporter by a unanimous decision.

The club decided to have choral singing on Christmas eve, Eileen Chorney to be the leader.

Bob Stufferfield moved that membership fees be $1.00 per person annually. This was seconded by Eileen Chorney and carried.

Mr. Hackman moved that the members from 12 to 14 be under the supervision of an instructor. This was agreed upon.

Volunteers to help the treasurer to collect fees were Cris Duban and Bob Wolstenholme.

Everyone was asked to think of a name for the new club. The next meeting is to be held on Thursday, Dec. 16. Fees may be paid to the treasurer or to the secretary.

So far this winter, about 15 carloads from B.C. have come to the area for mink feed. However, there seems to be a deficiency in it as far as food value is concerned. It seems to lack in certain essentials and some mink die, as a result, because of "yellowfat." Some estimate 500 to 1,000 animals have been lost in this manner this year.

The obvious solution would be a greatly expanded fish catch this year and every year. But if the record of recent years is an indication, this is not likely for some time to come.

Lac La Biche Furs Get Good Prices At Auction

EDMONTON, (BUP)—Officials of Edmonton Fur Auction Sales report the greatest number of buyers to attend a sale in Edmonton in several years was on hand last week.

The group included 24 buyers from Eastern and New York markets who paid above-average prices. About $450,000 worth of furs were offered but not all were sold.

More than 20,000 pastel mink pelts were offered and they brought prices up to 15 per cent higher than last year.

Most furs offered came from producers in the Lac la Biche and Lesser Slave Lake areas.

Driver Seriously Hurt In Car-Truck Accident

GRASSLAND—A serious accident occurred about 7:30 p.m. Wednesday about ¼ of a mile east of Grassland, when a car driven by Mike Omelchuk collided with a light truck driven by Joe Romanyshyn.

Seriously injured in the accident, Mike Omelchuk was taken to Lac la Biche hospital, while still unconscious.

Less seriously hurt were Mr. and Mrs. Romanyshyn, who both received cuts about the head and face.

Both vehicles were badly damaged, the front end of the Omelchuk car being completely demolished.

NO GREAT SHORTAGE OF FEED BUT WILL NEED SEED GRAIN NEXT YEAR

LAC LA BICHE—The provincial government's survey in the district on the seed and feed situation indicates there is no great shortage of feed in the Lac la Biche area. However, there will be a definite shortage of seed grain for the sowing of the 1955 crop. Particularly is this true of oats and barley. The government plans to ship seed grain from elsewhere in the province to certain centralized points in the district, if not enough suitable seed grain can be bought locally.

Earlier News, Please!

This message is to all district reporters to ask them to send in news for the next issue of this paper three days earlier than usual.

The Christmas issues of all Community Publications newspapers must be off the press in plenty of time so that all readers will get their paper before Christmas. News that is received late for the Christmas issue will be published in the first week in January.

Because of the fact that there are three holidays in the 10 day working period before and after Christmas, it will not be possible to issue the paper between Christmas and New Year's.

The Metropolitan Areas

One thing is evident, from the hearings held by the Royal Commission on Metropolitan Development in the Edmonton area. The urban residential areas of Edmonton, Beverly and Jasper Place are anxious to get their hands on the assessments of the big industrial plants. These establishments, on the eastern outskirts of the city, are within the rural Municipal District of Strathcona. Neither these firms, the Municipal District or the Clover Bar School Division want any change in the present Municipal Boundaries.

A number of factors have combined to make the Municipal District of Strathcona such an important industrial centre. Nearness of rail and water facilities, as well as an abundant close supply of natural gas are important factors. Besides all these points, however, is the very important fact that officials of the Municipal District, through good salesmanship and administration, have created an atmosphere favorable to big business.

For their part, the big firms were attracted by a low mill rate and comparatively low taxes. Having established where they are on the understanding they would enjoy these benefits, one wonders how they can now be forced into the City of Edmonton to pay much higher taxes.

There ought to be some sort of statute of limitations, in reverse. If new industries are to be encouraged to settle in any rural Municipal District they should have a ten or twenty year guarantee that in that time they won't be forced into an urban area, against their will.

If the McNally Commission recommends immediate union of the Strathcona industrial area with Edmonton—what justification will the Government have for forcing the wishes of the big city on the residents of the rural community?

What will be the effect of this policy on other industries thinking of setting up in Alberta? What chance will any rural municipal area, town or village have of encouraging industry by offering favorable conditions? If and when the industrial area of the Municipal District of Strathcona is forced into union with the City of Edmonton it will be fair notice to all other industries that they can't be sure of any deal they might make with the small municipality. As soon as they get established the big city will be there to gobble them up.

Live And Let Live

The days are getting short, lights come on early, there is a tang in the air and an indefinable expectancy. The advertisers display their ingenuity, enticing the buyer to "lay away against the Yuletide holiday".

Christmas is a great day in our country. In Canada, with its snappy, frosty days, snow covered trees and lawns, it's a natural. What a time! Children keyed up to a fever heat of hope that all their dreams will come true. Young folk home from college, Christmas dinner, turkey, pudding, and all the trimmings, and, of course, parties. What a gay time the Canadian Christmas holiday; dancing, games, skating, skiing, or just partying.

Everybody is in a generous mood. Sometimes that generosity oversteps the bounds of good sense. That is understandable but might be disastrous. A few treats to the delivery man can have serious results and render him an unsafe driver. Drinking at Christmas parties has to be watched, too. There have been so many motor car deaths in recent years at Christmas that the police have advised that "if you drink, don't drive, and if you drive, don't drink". Pretty good advice.

There will be deaths, no doubt, on the road this Christmas, too. What a pity if one of the victims in the morgue should have been at your party last night. Or if your friends should find you there on a cold slab. Could be.

Live and let live. We all want to have a good time at Christmas and to be alive to tell about it. We owe it to the cops, who know more about these things than most of us, to take their advice. "If you drive, don't drink if you drink, don't drive".

Help From Above

Mankind needs the upward look to God which gives purpose to this troublesome, worry-filled life on earth. At best, the world is a trouble-spot and the Christian Gospel the only antidote for the sin and worry here below.

As the Christmas season approaches, it gives one the opportunity of making a new assessment of spiritual values compared to purely temporal things.

The life that is based on the Christian faith has a sure source of strength from on high. The life that ignores God and leaves him out of its affairs though it may be embellished with this world's goods, is nevertheless impoverished and needy.

Our TV Fare

Television is still a comparative newcomer to Alberta, and very few families, percentage-wise, have TV. It has been in operation long enough, however, to make some assessment of the kind of fare we are getting.

Already, the two Alberta TV stations have produced some mighty fine programming. CFRN-TV, for instance, has ordered the very best available, in news, features and shows.

In our eagerness to relax and enjoy entertainment in our home, few of us give much thought to the question what the quality of television shows should be. Keeping in mind the fact that television shows, just as any other entertainment, must not be aimed above the heads of the masses, we can still hope for some standard of quality.

It seems to be obvious now that the Broadway stage production, and its type of entertainment, is not ideally suited for mass distribution to Canadian towns and cities in all parts of the country.

There are few really sensible plots and portrayals from Hollywood and New York on our television screens. The producers, writers and directors go off the deep end, trying to be super-dramatic, reach a fifth dimension in psychological hokum and just plain weak plots.

There are many fine television programs and we are glad that educational TV channels are being utilized more and more.

Certainly, the present fare of television programming can and must be improved. Stupid plots, stupid dialogue, sordid life and fast living are being overworked.

Mild November

By EUSTACE REDDISH

PEAVINE — November was another pleasant month with above average temperatures and with below average precipitation. The maximum temperature of the month was 62 deg. on the 21st and the minimum was 15 deg. on the 13th, which was also by far the coldest day, with a high reading of 18 deg. as the skies cleared after the snowfall of the previous day. Only three inches of snow fell during the month—quite a contrast to the two feet of snow that fell during November 1942—but a mild November is not unusual.

Some I remember are 1923, 1930, 1933 and 1943. In November, 1933, we had rain on 13 days, and on November 14 Romeo Creek was running very strongly and was very high.

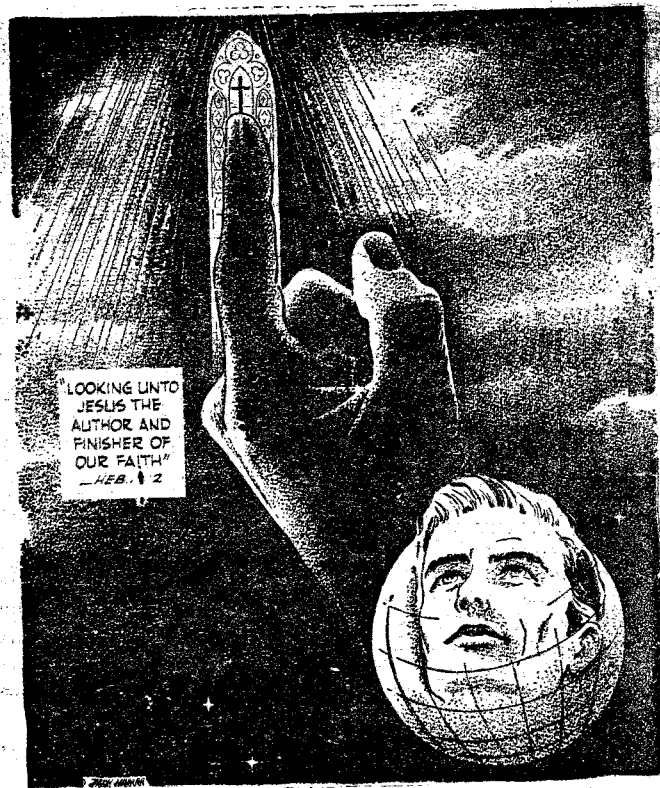

By the 26th the roads were badly cut up and rutted by waggon traffic, and after snow came in early December they were very rough for sleighs for some time.

In November, 1930, on the 22nd and 23rd a lot of damage was caused by grass fires which raged over considerable areas of the district and were only halted by snow on the 20th.

In 1923, 1930 and 1943, December was also quite mild, but the December of 1933 was very mean with 26 inches of snow and only 36 hours of sunshine, and after December 8 the daily maximum temperature was always below zero and night temperatures were usually between 30 and 40 below, with mean winds and drifting snow. It was 40 below on Christmas Day that year.

Bible Today

Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for Him.
Ps. 37:7.

Voice Of The People

Readers are invited to make free expression of opinion on any subject. Letters should be short and concise. The Editor reserves the right to condense or reject any letter.

WHAT'S A CHRISTIAN?

Fred Myer of Ronan, Alta., has every right to his opinion but on looking for an answer in the Bible to the question, I find he is in error. That is, when he says a Christian is one who lives by the Ten Commandments. The Bible says this was the Divine Law—if we keep it we have life, if we break it we are subject to spiritual death. No one yet ever kept the law—it is only our "schoolmaster" to bring us to Christ.

Mr. Myer must agree that in nature we see the handiwork of God—and as the poet said "every prospect pleases and only man is vile." Romans III, verses 9 to 20 proves this. If our friend will just take his Bible and read Psalms 1 and 2 and also Psalm 32. I am sure he will if he will "let God be true and every man a liar, and letting the Holy Spirit, apart from which he, Mr. Myer, or anyone else, will never be "convicted, convinced or converted," speak the "Truth," concerning our "lost condition" thru the Beneficent Love of a Holy God who "says" Rejoice with me, that I have found a "Ransom." Our Heavenly Father, "Gave His Son." "The Son Gave His Life," and says to each one "Give Me thine heart," for with the heart man believeth into righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto Salvation. Recently, a friend asked me Mr. Myer's query and to the "true Christian," it is self explanatory. Christ is all now. Christ, I am nothing.

If Mr. Myer is earnestly seeking the "Truth" I am sure the Bible is his best guide book. Starting with John 3:16 and putting his own name in where the personal pronoun occurs in this verse, and staking his all in the inerrant "Word of God," which says "Without the shedding of blood, there is no remission." Nothing in my hands, I bring, simply to Thy cross I cling.

I am enclosing some booklets which I wish you pursue Mr. Editor and send on to Mr. Myer in the hope that he will see from the "Bible" that an unconverted man cannot keep the "Commandments." But rest his all for time and eternity on the "finished" work of a Loving Saviour and like the Indians when asked his hope of heaven said in reference to Christ. "He die, me no die."

WANTS A CHANGE

Now that winter is here, will our roads be in the same mess they were for the greater part of the summer. When are the people of Alberta going to send representatives to the Legislature who will give us good roads instead of just handing out Social Credit Christian religious democracy.

Do you think the spiritual head of the Social Credit Christian religious democracy of 20 years ago was not a spy sent down to earth to lay the foundation of a war that will destroy humanity completely? The father of Social Credit was the late William Aberhart, the son was Hon. E. C. Manning. We have not heard about the bonus that was to be handed out to all Alberta citizens for some time.

Think it over folks, remember there is an election coming. Let us have a government that will fight Social Credit and not one in league with them.

It's too bad the way they're going after Senator McCarthy down in Washington.

To me, Sen. Joseph McCarthy personifies a man of courage and unwavering integrity in his earnest determination to weed out corrupting influences in your government. Compared to him his critics shrink out of all proportion.

Complaint Against Young Immigrant Is Withdrawn

By HENRY THOMPSON

LAC LA BICHE—A case came up last week in the magistrate's court, which, rightly speaking shouldn't have been presented to the officials of law and order at all.

What the town needs is a local law office with a resident lawyer who would not only help and assist the principals involved in criminal and civil actions but would also be of great assistance to the local police officers and magistrate.

According to information I have been able to gather, a familiar slap on the posterior section of another person's anatomy is not considered a crime in the old country. A young immigrant, however, just a year in Canada, in a burst of familiarity with a young woman in a local cafe made the friendly gesture and was drawn into court on a personal assault charge.

I was present in the magistrate's office when the girl signed the complaint without reading it and was also there when the Constable secured a summons, expressing considerable need for haste.

Those of us who are away from home and must avail ourselves of the facilities of hotel and restaurant, appreciate excellent attentive service supplied by these places in Lac la Biche.

We enjoy the friendly atmosphere and smiling repartee of the pleasant, neatly dressed lady attendants at counter or table service, particularly at the restaurant where this incident took place.

Regular boarders, soon adopt the easy familiarity and freedom of home surroundings. I am sure no offense was intended, merely a boisterous action of jolly good fellowship. The worst interpretation applicable, would be to say it was "bad form."

A slap on the back, that is alleged to have landed a foot or so too low, does not deserve the attention of an already overcrowded court docket. Where there was not any intent to bodily harm or insult.

That these fine young people should be forced to appear in court and suffer the publicity and consequent embarrassment of such a situation is deplorable. The law, surely can find more worthy material for the protection of Lac la Biche residents.

I understand the complaint has been withdrawn and the young man has made an apology to the young lady. This could have easily been accomplished (the apology, I mean) in the office of a local lawyer if we had one. Which, is as I maintain, what we need—a lawyer in Lac la Biche.

Boyle

The Home and School dance held on Dec. 3 was attended by a small crowd. The lucky winner of the traveling case was little Ernie Leckey of Boyle.

Peter Mykitychyn, along with his uncle and aunt, motored to Boyle to spend the week-end at home.

Mr. Ness from Sedalia was a visitor at his brother's farm near Boyle for a few days.

Mrs. Deverynchuk and Miss Forbes were visitors to the city over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson motored to the city for a few days' shopping and family visiting. They returned on Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. C. Roberts who spent the week-end here.

Funeral services for the late Mr. Carlsen were held in the Anglican church on Dec. 9. Mr. Carlsen was stricken with a heart attack and died as he was about to enter his home on Dec. 6.

The B.A. warehouse has been electrically wired and two pumps have been installed.

Grassland

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira McKenzie were Lionel Hurtubise of Calgary and Miss Gaie Cyr of Legal. The whole party later visited Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Hutubise at Lac la Biche.

A party was held Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Guy, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Kanzig, who were recently married.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Mellott made a business trip to Edmonton on Thursday.

Richard Garner is driving a cat at the Bradford Lumber camp.

Francis Garnier is back at work for Bill Campbell at Atmore.

Mrs. Huca is visiting friends in Edmonton.

On Sunday the Grassland Community hall was crowded, when the Catholic parish church at Atmore put on a bingo and bazaar, followed by a chicken supper. A picture show took place in the evening.

Mrs. D. A. Sadowski is in hospital at Lac la Biche, where she has undergone a slight operation.

It seems incredible! Thousands of laws; but still no improvement on the Ten Commandments!

Slightly Improved Attendance Marks Get Ready For Big Road Program

Fifth Annual Meeting DA Society In 1955

By E. K. WOLFER

ATHABASCA—The fifth annual meeting of the Athabasca and District Agricultural Society was held on Friday, December 3, in the parish hall of St. Gabriel's. The attendance was rather disappointing, yet was slightly better than a year ago. However, it is hard to expect people to come to a dry meeting when there is a free implement show going on at the same time. The financial report of the Society for the year 1954, however, was not as bad as it might have been when you consider the year. This Society had lots of company in the respect of rain and more rain for fairs. Despite all that the Society will have a few dollars to the good when the government grant comes in.

There was considerable discussion on how the fair was conducted last year. It was unanimous that the women's section was carried off in grand style and it is the opinion of the executive that 1955 will be even better. The principle trouble for the livestock section lies in the fact that rains and nearly impassable roads made it impossible for quite a number of directors to get in, let alone those who had entered stock to show. Much more help is needed than was available last year and at the annual meeting more directors were added to the executive and more of those elected from closer in. The Society has added some directors from the town of Athabasca itself, and those chosen are of the calibre to add much to our success. The list of directors will be added to later, also from the town of Athabasca. It was felt that these men can add much to our farm group. Later these directors will choose their committee members to work with them. We have found that people are only too glad to help if they are asked and more than that the talents available as directors or committee members is amazing.

It was decided to extend the area to be served by the Society to cover a radius of 75 miles. This greatly widens the territory and when you win at the 1955 fair you will be able to say Athabasca has the goods.

Just what the activities of the Society will be for 1955 have not been decided upon in their entirety. It is hoped to put on a festivity early in the new year to take the place of the regular harvest festival that had to be postponed this fall, principally due to harvest conditions that prevailed.

A seed fair will be out of the question this year as there is very little seed of any kind available from the 1954 crop. Tillage demonstrations are possible and there are other types of activities that can be held, besides the fair.

New officers for the incoming year are: President, W. R. Flack, Colinton; 1st vice-pres., Eric Brown, Meanook; 2nd vice-pres., N. J. Shopland, Rochester.

Directive: D. B. Hunter, Athabasca; G. Ivey, Ellscoot; Mrs. Helen Bahry, Lincoln; Mrs. R. N. Russell, Athabasca; Mrs. T. Mapp, Amber Valley; Ray Parson, Boyle; Joe Eherer, Jr., Athabasca; Rudolph Aloisio, Perryvale; G. Putnam, Grassland; P. Nykolyn, Sarnail; Mike These, Athabasca; Mrs. J. A. Clark, Perryvale; R. Berrea, Athabasca; Mrs. Fern Nelson, Athabasca; Mr. Ed James, Grosmont; G. Rabin, Athabasca; Billie Minns, Athabasca.

Members from the Boards of Trade from Colinton and Boyle will be asked to send a representative as a director. Mrs. E. Wolfer will continue as secretary for the present. It goes without saying that Geo. Godel will represent the Department of Agriculture.

WI Celebrates 25th Anniversary

BOYLE — Saturday, Dec. 4, the WI held the annual meeting in the library.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. Henry Loy, president; Mrs. Frank Smith, vice-president and Mrs. Paul Andruski, secretary-treasurer.

Following the meeting the ladies celebrated the 25th anniversary of the club. Mrs. Frank Thompson read the minutes of the first meeting and Mrs. Mellott told of the organizing of the club at her house 25 years ago.

A lovely anniversary cake centred the table with delicious salads, turkey, etc., surrounding it.

Following the meal the annual gift exchange took place with each member choosing her gift from under a gaily decorated Christmas tree.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT IN ALBERTA

and these, too, have their own councils charged with carrying out well-defined responsibilities.

Improvements Districts comprise the outlying lands in the Province which are not sufficiently well developed to assume the responsibilities of local government. As population increases, improvement districts become municipal districts with their own elected councils, but until they reach this stage of development their affairs are administered directly by the Department of Municipal Affairs.

The Special Areas in south-eastern Alberta is another section of the Province which does not have local self-government.

These areas are administered by a Special Areas Board directly responsible to the Department of Municipal Affairs. Headquarters of the Board is at Hanna.

In 1950, The County Act became law under which the council of a municipal district or the board of the school division may request that their district be established as a county. In a county, a single local government, called a county council, combines the work formerly done by the municipal council and the local school board. One council instead of two, and one budget instead of two means greater economy, more efficient administration and improved and expanded services can then be rendered.

Many requests for the change have been received and by 1954 five counties have been established in widely separated and different parts of Alberta. All five are operating efficiently and there is little doubt that further counties will be established in the Province.

The Department of Municipal Affairs is divided into several Branches. One of these, the Assessment Branch, sets up uniform standards of assessments throughout the Province, and deals with adjustments or revisions of various assessments where these are required. Upon request, the Branch will undertake the assessment of any town, village or hamlet and will absorb fifty percent of the cost.

The Municipal Inspections Branch conducts an annual inspection of the books and records of all towns, villages and municipal districts, in Alberta, paying particular attention to their by-laws, budgets and methods of finance. This Branch also looks after any changes in status or boundaries.

The Field Service Branch assesses all lands in improvement districts, collects a considerable amount of taxes and values various parcels of land for other government purposes.

The Tax Recovery Branch supervises the enforcement of The Tax Recovery Act under which land may be sold for unpaid taxes.

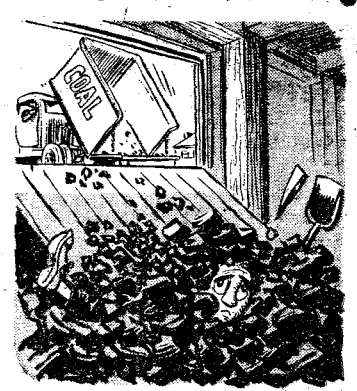

The Town and Rural Planning Branch is the executive arm of the Provincial Planning Advisory Board. It provides technical assistance on town planning wherever this service is requested. No charge is made for expert advice on such matters as road intersections, general plans and zoning by-laws for a 20-year development program. This Branch is responsible for the planning of Drayton Valley, Alberta's youngest townsite.

The Minister of Municipal Affairs is also the Minister in Charge of Civil Defence for the Province and the Provincial Secretary.

A fall wedding was solemnized at St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Edmonton, at 2.30 p.m. on Wednesday, December 1, when Margaret Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bromley of Abbotsford, B.C., became the bride of Glenn Clarence Jones, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jones of Colinton.

The marriage was performed by Rev. Miller of Edmonton.

Given in marriage by Cecil Hanson, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin with nylon net overskirt and lace bodice. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Lloyd Olson, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. She chose a floor-length dress of pink net over taffeta.

Theresa Belerose and Anne Cassidy were bridesmaids, wearing yellow and green nylon net over taffeta dresses, respectively.

Assisting the groom were his brother-in-law, Lloyd Olson, together with Hugh Poloski and Morley Breckenridge. Ernie Pare of Colinton and Bob Miller of Edmonton were ushers.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents in Colinton.

Mrs. Jones received the guests in a blue gabardine suit and wore a corsage of pink roses. The toast to the bride was proposed by Val Breckenridge and was responded to by the groom. Following a honeymoon at Great Falls, Montana, the happy couple will reside in Violet Grove, Alta.

DISTRICT AGRICULTURE SOCIETY LEADERS ATTEND EDMONTON MEET

ATHABASCA — President W.
R. Fleck and Secretary E. K. Wolfer attended the annual meeting of the Alberta Agricultural Societies Association, held in the King Edward Hotel, Edmonton, on Monday, Dec. 6.

There were 18 class "C" fairs and four class "B" fairs represented at the meeting. There are 41 active agricultural societies in the province, but not all are members of the Association. A concerted effort will be made this year to get them all as members so the Association can speak as "one voice" when making their presentations to the Department of Agriculture and to the Legislature.
Larger grants were much in the fore. Grants made to Societies in Alberta are much smaller than those made by the Province of Saskatchewan. It was also asked that Societies ask the department to allow Societies to be paid grants on more than four activities, as at present.

Insurance for Societies was much debated and it was the opinion of the meeting that no Society could afford NOT to have an insurance policy to cover all their activities. Some of the delegates were talking from personal experience.

Planning a fair circuit so that shows and carnivals could also plan in advance was put on the "business slate" for the office of the association to help local societies for the ensuing year.

President Fleck, and Secretary Wolfer felt the meeting was well worth attending and wish to thank G. Godel for transportation to the city.

In 1955 it is planned to hold a two-day meeting; one day for the business meeting and one day for a "workshop," or school for directors and interest agricultural society members to learn the "ins and outs", for future leadership.
